

Write an ALP that does the following:

- Takes in 5 characters as user input – while user is entering the input it should not be displayed on the screen.
- Create a new file “my1.txt”, write the five characters into the file.
- Also Display the 5 characters in bright green with a black background and the characters should not blink – use ‘?’ as the blocking character.